Chicago Cubs Picked to Win the World's Series.

WHITE SOX TOO WEAK AT BAT

Fielding, but the Cubs Are Almost Equally Proficient in These Elements-Victory Easy for Nationals, But Americans Had Hard Struggle. World's Series Begins To-morrow.

In another day the third battle for world's honors in baseball will be on, and a merry conflict it's going to be. The Cubs have had such an easy thing of it in winning the National League pennant and are in such fine fettle, they believe the White Sox will be the easiest kind of adversaries. Fielder Jones' tribe has traveled over a rocky road this year, surnore arduous ordeal of fighting for the

It is said the White Sox will find themselves equally unable to perform the task ment, before them, but the conditions are hardy the same, and there is something to be said of the comparative merits of the players of each team.

Well Balanced in Fielding. Both are wonderful fielding teams and after the individuals are compared there ourse, one would choose Capt. Tinker will eat up as many intended base hits as George Davis hany intended base his as deerige bayes at shortfield, and probably "pole" as many through safe territory, but Davis' 'noodle'' is worth several like Tinker's. And maybe a good "noodle" don't get something in baseball.

Steinfeldt is capable of getting about everything that comes his way, and sometimes he goes a long way out of his way to get things. He is a greater third baseman to-day than he ever was at Cincinnati. As a batsman, he has the third sackmen all beaten.

Therefore he is a double waster. Therefore, he is a doubly useful player.

It must be said of him, though, that the White Sox did not get into their stride until Dougherty joined Jones' forces, when the club looked like the poorest in the cluster of eight. Choosing between Dougherty and Jimmy Sheckard, one could not overlook the latter, who has always been highly regarded as a fielder and who has never played bet-

In passing around laurels one should not overlook Fielder Jones in preference to any one whom the Cubs could present in center field. Jones has no equal in the middle field, and he is not only a most useful person there, but also is a great baserunner and "inside" player One time Jones was a crack batsman but managerial duties seem to have dimmed his eye. Anyway, Jones is not the batter he was before he took up Jimmy Callahan's mantle as the leader of the White Sox. Hahn has strength-
